

Premier Replies to Charges Made by "Fired" Magistrate

By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON.—The case of A. H. Gibson, K.C., Edmonton police magistrate, who was dismissed by order of the cabinet, aroused strong feelings against the Government over the week-end. Mr. Gibson declared that he was discharged after a suitable time had elapsed, because he had refused to stir his duty when the cases of G. F. Powell and J. B. Unwin, M.L.A., came before him last autumn. It was Mr. Gibson who committed them for trial by the Supreme Court.

He had received suggestions and threats to induce him to lay the case aside, Mr. Gibson stated, but had refused to evade his responsibility of giving the charges a fair hearing and a fair decision. There were a couple of other cases in which he may have incurred the spite of Aberhart, but the Powell-Unwin episode was the chief cause of his dismissal, Mr. Gibson said.

Refused to See Magistrate.—The Premier, who is also Attorney-General, had refused to see the magistrate after ousting his dismissal; he had refused to give any reason for the dismissal, and he had refused to comment when newspapermen asked him about it, but after the Edmonton Journal had published Mr. Gibson's charges, Premier Aberhart issued a written statement.

Premier Aberhart did not deny, in his statement, the ex-magistrate's charge that the Powell-Unwin case lay behind Mr. Gibson's dismissal. He said that such an old case should cause dismissal "suggests his falling ability to weigh evidence." He still did not deny the truth of the charge, but he reverted to attacks on newspapers—particularly the Journal—for having printed what Mr. Gibson said. He was considered "a sign of the cabinet who saw anything about the dismissal of the charge."

CRABAPPLE TREE HERE BEARS 3 BUSHELS FRUIT.—Crab apple trees in the Lacombe district are bearing well this year. If the crabtree in Mrs. E. L. Misener's garden may be taken as a criterion, this tree, twenty years old, is heavily laden this year with fruit, an estimated three bushels of apples bearing the limbs down. Mrs. Misener states that this is one of the heaviest yields she has yet obtained from this tree.

J. Johnson Hurt When Team Bolts

J. Johnson of Lacombe was seriously injured when a team which he was driving ran away Friday afternoon, north of Del Henderson's corner, west of town. The horses suddenly bolted for no apparent reason and Mr. Johnson was thrown heavily from the rig in which he was riding. He was found shortly after the accident, lying on the road, by Vernon Henderson, who saw the rig and went down to render aid.

The injured man was rushed to the Community Hospital, Lacombe, where he received medical attention. He is recovering from bad bruises and shock. His condition Wednesday was described as "favorable."

Expect Threshing to be General Within a Week

Pegged Price On Wheat to Apply at Country Elevators; Table Compares Wheat Prices and Open Market Bids

Close to ninety per cent of the wheat in the Lacombe district has been cut, according to estimates. Cutting has started in several districts also on the coarse grains, and threshing is expected to be general by next week, weather permitting. Wheat seems to be yielding well, with an estimated yield for the whole district set close to an average of 25 bushels per acre. Farmers who have grown peas this year in accordance with the agreement with the Brooks Seed Growers' Association report extra large yields of this crop, some running up to 27 and 28 bushels to the acre. Last year, peas yielded averaged around 16 bushels to the acre.

Farmers will market their wheat this year to the Canadian Wheat Board, and will receive the pegged price for wheat on their crops. For the information of our readers, the Globe publishes the prices, under the Wheat Board peg, which farmers of this district will receive at the country elevators in Lacombe and district. Alongside of this table is published the corresponding prices in the open market on Tuesday of this week. This will be seen the advantage of the pegged price to the farmer.

The prices given for Car Lots in Elevator at Lacombe are for those farmers who deliver 1,000 bushels or more to the elevators in this district, while the street prices are for those who deliver under 1,000 bushels to the elevator. These two prices are net, with freight and handling charges already deducted. The Fort William and Vancouver prices are gross prices, with the grain delivered at Fort William or Vancouver—freight and handling charges not deducted.

It will be seen that the average of 50 per cent of this year's wheat crop of the Lacombe district will be marketed. These Wheat Board prices have been set by the Canadian Wheat Board, formed by the Federal Government to guarantee a fixed price for the wheat grown by the farmers of Western Canada. In 1932, the average of second and third grades sold in the elevators of Lacombe and district for 23 cents per bushel. The same grades this year have been pegged by the Canadian government at 51 and 46 cents respectively here. The tables follow:

Mrs. Capron, Blackfalds Old Timer, Dies

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BLACKFALDS.—This village lost one of its oldest and best loved residents last Thursday night when Mrs. Capron passed away after an illness lasting two months. "Gracie" Capron, as she was familiarly known, the children around here, was born in Quebec in 1856, and it was after her marriage that she and her husband moved first to Minnesota, and in 1901 to Alberta, making their home in the same house in which she died, near the village. Her husband predeceased her in 1923 and she was one of the last of the earliest pioneers who saw this village grow up.

Mrs. Capron leaves to mourn her loss two sons, five daughters, 14 grand-children and 13 great-grand-children, besides a host of friends in this district. The funeral took place from the United Church last Saturday, August 27, after a private service at the house, and the many friends present, together with the floral wreaths, testified to the great esteem in which she was held by the community.

Mr. Woody of the Lacombe Funeral Home, who had charge of the funeral arrangements, and his wife, Mrs. Woody, sang a duet during the service, while Mrs. Bert Fackler presided at the organ for the hymns. Rev. A. L. Carr conducted the service and spoke fittingly of the long and useful life of the deceased.

The pallbearers were Messrs. W. P. Puffer of Lacombe, S. Farewell, P. McLennan, Bert Wagner, B. McNeil and Bert Fackler, Blackfalds.

Among the former local residents who attended Mrs. Capron's funeral were Mrs. E. Anley, Mrs. Garberry and Ben Lawton.

Car Turns Over In Ditch; Driver Not Injured

Mrs. S. J. Henderson escaped injury when the car which she was driving turned over in the ditch one mile east of Lacombe last Thursday night. Mrs. Henderson was driving from her farm into town when the accident occurred. A rough spot in the road caused the car to leave the road and crash into the ditch, where the vehicle turned over. Damage to the car is estimated at around $500. Mrs. Henderson, outside of a few minor bruises, was unharmed.

First Shipment 1938 Wheat By N. Flewelling

Nels Flewelling, farming four miles east of Lacombe, brought the first load of the 1938 wheat crop into the local elevators Monday of this week. Mrs. Flewelling had 700 bushels of good grade Garnet wheat, which will grade either No. 2 or 3 Garnet. He reported that he averaged 35 bushels to the acre on this wheat, which was remarkably clean of weeds. This first shipment was handled through the Alberta Wheat Pool elevator.

Postmistress of Haynes Passes Away

Funeral services were held yesterday (Wednesday) for Mrs. Ida B. Fawcett, postmistress of the Haynes post office for the past six years. Mrs. Fawcett was well known in the district, having resided in this municipality for 25 years. Services, arranged by the Lacombe Funeral Home, were held at the United Church, Haynes, and interment was made at the Lacombe cemetery. Rev. Thompson of Mirror officiated at the services, assisted by Rev. S. J. Watkinson.

Mrs. Fawcett was 66 years of age. She was born in Belmont, Nova Scotia, in 1872, and moved to western Canada at an early age. Her husband predeceased her in March, 1936. She leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Mrs. S. Leader of the Joffe district, and a brother, H. C. Barnhill of Sainwood.

Local Golfers Compete With Stettler Club

Sixteen golfers from Lacombe visited in Stettler Sunday in inter-club match play. Stettler came out on the long end of the match, prevailing with the local golfers close runners-up. Games were played amid ideal weather, and local golfers reported the Stettler course in "fine shape."

A return inter-club contest will be played in Lacombe on Sept. 11, when Stettler golfers will be the guests of the local club. The five points separated the two clubs at the end of the day's play. The local golfers who took the trip were Jack Morrison, H. B. Boddie, D. F. Chisholm, H. S. Trane, George Brown, Oliver Vickerson, Jack McKinley, Buster Nelles, Peter Danner, M. G. Cruickshank, Harold Henker, Ed Bowring, John Miller, Harry Teare, Bev Harrington and I. O. Irish.

"Germany Seeking Control Balkan States"—European Newsmen

Mr. M. H. Halton, European correspondent for the Toronto Daily Star, was interviewed by the Lacombe Globe reporter prior to the most recent crisis in Europe. In view of the impending trouble in Central Europe today, his views are of increasing interest.

"Germany is definitely fomenting unrest and civil wars in Europe in an endeavor to change the balance of power in that continent in her favor," said H. M. Halton, European correspondent for the Toronto Daily Star, when interviewed by a Globe reporter.

In view of the impending trouble in Central Europe today, his views are of increasing interest. "Germany is definitely fomenting unrest and civil wars in Europe in an endeavor to change the balance of power in that continent in her favor," said H. M. Halton, European correspondent for the Toronto Daily Star, when interviewed by a Globe reporter.

He laid the present unrest in Europe directly at Germany's door. "Germany never did accept the Treaty of Versailles, nor did she accept the revolution which converted Germany into a republic in 1919," Mr. Halton claimed. He outlined the steps leading up to the present European situation, mentioning how, long before Hitler's time, German militarists planned and prepared for the next war.

"Confronted by the Maginot line on the east, an impenetrable ring of concrete and steel," German militarists cast about to find the vulnerable point of France and England. "Germany has started a new technique in stirring up civil wars," Mr. Halton declared. This technique has been observed in Spain, Austria, and is now being worked out in Czechoslovakia. "It is simple," the newspaperman explained; "it consists of stirring up and agitating the radicals; causing riots and assassinations. Then Germany steps in, claiming that order is not being observed."

Fomented Civil War

Positive proof that Germany fomented the Spanish civil war has been found in German embassies in Spain, Mr. Halton stated. "At the present time Germany dominates Germany's foreign policy, his air force, and large gun emplacements dominate the Straits of Gibraltar from Northern Africa. Italy also controls the Balearic Islands, making France vulnerable to air attacks from the south," he declared.

Questioned regarding the Italian-German alliance, Mr. Halton said that "It is merely a Mussolini-Hitler alliance," which might or might not stand in times of stress.

The Czechoslovak problem is a long and complicated question," Mr. Halton reported, explaining that German control of Czechoslovakia would mean German control of the Balkans. He believed, however, that as long as Britain and France stand firm in their agreement that Germany shall not swallow Czechoslovakia as she swallowed Austria, then the Czechs are safe. Russia and France saved Czechoslovakia on May 23," he asserted.

"An interesting point arises here," Mr. Halton smiled, Germany's pretext for taking Czechoslovakia is because "fair treatment is not being given the German minority"—but look what the Germans have done to their Jewish minority.

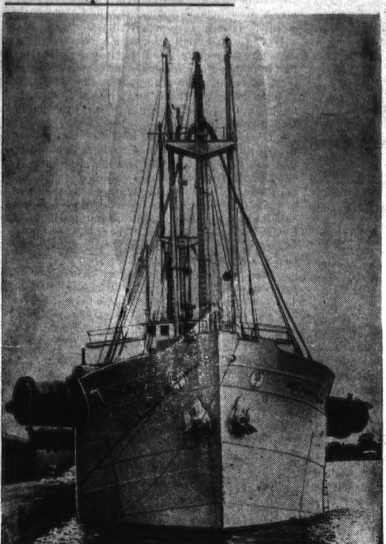

Feeling of Fatalism

"There is a feeling of fatalism among Britishers today," Mr. Halton said, "a feeling that war is inevitable. This is exemplified by the high price of living now apparent in Britishers, who feel 'after us, the deluge.'"

Asked if Canada would play a large part in any future war, Mr. Halton emphatically replied, "Yes." Within two years, he explained, "Canada will be the manufacturing center for the British air force. He also thought that the States might give up her isolation policy in time of war.

Mr. Halton could see peace for years to come only if the balance of power in Europe was kept on the side of the Franco-British agreement, "unless," Mr. Halton warned, "Hitler embarks on a 'mad dog' war in a desperate struggle to emerge victorious."

This Ship Needs Room

Carrying a cargo that jutted out about 18 feet on each side, the S.S. Belpamela presented an odd appearance as she sailed for the Persian Gulf from London. Her load consisted of oil towers 105 feet high, and their loading created a problem.

Gull Lake Girls Beat Ponoka Team In Softball Match

Before a splendid crowd at Gull Lake Park on Sunday, the Gull Lake Girls triumphed in a convincing 13 to 9 victory, playing against the Ponoka Maple Leafs. The Gull Lake Girls' team from Ponoka, Gladys Ebeling in the pitcher's box, ably supported by good fielding on the part of her team-mates, turned in a splendid performance.

The Gull Lake Girls travelled to Ponoka last Tuesday night to play a return game of softball with the Ponoka Maple Leafs. On account of darkness the game was called at the end of the fourth inning, the score being 10-3 in favor of the Gull Lake Girls at that time.

The girls wish to take this opportunity of thanking Howard Saunders, as coach of the team, for the time and interest he has taken in the team this summer. The boys' game between the Country All-Stars and Lacombe All-Stars was very evenly contested, and well worth watching. The Country Boys won out by the score of 11-0.

Miss Nellie Pennock Passes Away

Miss Nellie May Pennock, 27-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Pennock, who farm 45 miles north of Lacombe, passed away at her home Friday morning. She suffered for years from the effects of pneumonia and typhoid fever, which she contracted in earlier years. Mrs. Mary Fiedler, her sister from Salem, Oregon, visited here over a month ago to help care for the ailing girl.

Previous to last spring she had spent some time in Oregon with her sister, where it was hoped the milder climate would effect a cure. The deceased, who was popular in the district, was born at her parents' farm north of town and attended school in this district. Funeral services were held from St. Andrew's United Church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment being made at the Lacombe cemetery, the Rev. Perrie officiating. The Lacombe Funeral Home had charge of the arrangements.

Pallbearers were Hynes Reister, Douglas Stewart, Wilbert Stevens, Nels Flewelling, Donald Calkins and Will Douglas. Two duets were sung at the services by Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Woody and Mrs. E. Ogilvie rendered a solo. In addition to her many friends she leaves to mourn her loss her father, mother and one sister.

POST OFFICE TO BE OPEN SUNDAYS

The Lacombe Post Office will be open to boxholders on Sundays between the hours of 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the future, according to information received at the Town Office from Major H. W. Hale, superintendent of mail services, Edmonton. This new regulation became effective last Sunday, in response to a request from the Town Council.

SOLDIERS' GRAVES AT LOCAL CEMETERY DECORATED

Graves of returned soldiers at the local cemetery were decorated with flowers by members of the Last-We-Forget Club and the Canadian Legion in spite of the rainy and cold weather prevailing on Decoration Day, Sunday, August 21. Mr. C. Raymond of the Lacombe Funeral Home kindly donated the use of his truck to convey the flowers to the cemetery. In last week's issue of the Lacombe Globe it was incorrectly stated that "the decorating of soldiers' graves at the cemetery was dispensed with."

Horticultural Society Needed

LAST week the Bentley Community Garden Club staged its annual flower show. The exhibits, in spite of unusual weather drawbacks, were very good, and a large number of residents of the entire district attended the show. The co-operation and enthusiasm shown by Bentley flower lovers is to be praised, and this order has no doubt materially aided in improving the flower gardens of the village. Lacombe, too, has its show places with beautiful plants and flowers lending their touch of color and gaiety to the general appearance of the town.

It does seem, though, too bad that Lacombe has no horticultural society where information on plants and general hints may be discussed and read. There would be considerable work entailed to such an organization, but the work would be a worthwhile effort on the part of flower lovers. Whether a flower show could be held in conjunction with the annual fair or not, would be a point to be settled by such a society and the fair board. A flower show in this town, though, would be a benefit to all. It was Jack Keats who penned those memorable words, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," and flowers certainly could be described as a "thing of beauty." Many other towns have their flower organizations, and with a Dominion Experimental Station here to aid such a society with information and booklets, Lacombe has advantages other towns lack.

If other towns can have their flower organizations, why not Lacombe?

A National Pest

GROWING space with the automobile industry is that ever increasing band of irritants known as back-seat drivers. How many drivers have been riding merrily along the highway when a sudden shrill from the back seat informs them that a car is coming—"Look out, George," and "George" winces visibly. The fact that the person at the wheel has seen the car a full thirty seconds before the person in the back seat, means not a thing. An automobile trip can be a very pleasant recreation, but a running commentary from the rear of the car on road conditions and possible dangers is not conducive to enjoyment on the part of the driver.

Back-seat driving is simply a complex—a complex that the person in the back can drive better than and see things invisible to, the person behind the wheel. It might be well to stir one's ego by shouting warnings all along the way, but it is extremely aggravating to the driver. There ought to be a law again the creatures, allowing an open season twelve months a year—but there is none. And so, in sympathy with suffering drivers we ask those whom the shoe fits—Please.

Drastic Action Taken

THE Royal Canadian Mounted Police are fighting desperately to stop an invasion of Canadian territory—an invasion of the dread drug, marihuana. Marihuana is made from the dried leaves of Indian hemp, and has gained much headway in the United States. The drug appears as hashish in biblical times, and was prevalent in the eastern Mediterranean centuries ago. It appears to have emanated from Mexico in recent times, taking its toll in the southern States and spreading insidiously all through the great country to our south. In Great Britain, Scotland Yard is working overtime endeavoring to stem the spread of usage of this drug, which is generally smoked in a mixture of tobacco and marihuana.

Last week, Mounted Police officers from Red Deer destroyed several hemp plants grown in this district for windbreaks, etc. No leaf is being left unturned in a fight against the growth in usage of this drug. Canada in its entirety is being thoroughly searched to kill and do away with all hemp plants grown within the border. The Mounted Police are to be commended for their prompt action in endeavoring to kill the spread of this drug from its very source.

Carrying Burdens

(From the Minneapolis Journal)

THERE are those who feel that there is a certain virtue in carrying burdens. There is little if any virtue in carrying burdens for the sake of the burden, but if one has to carry them, the virtue lies in doing it as cheerfully and as best one can—and in making little fuss about the matter. But the burden itself, as burden, is not the thing.

A tired woman entered a street car one day carrying a heavy basket. Instead of placing the burden upon the floor or upon an empty seat, she continued to hold it, shifting its weight now and then from one knee to the other and sighing heavily at each shift.

A workman seated across the aisle watched her for some time. When he could stand it no

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

In travelling around and living in auto camp, one meets all sorts and kinds of people, and runs across many amusing situations, and pathetic incidents. If only I were a Nellie McClung, what a book I could write through having spent ten days this way quite recently. However, I would like to mention one incident, which was to me the most interesting of all. It was the tale of a young couple and their three months' old baby, living in the public camping grounds at Radium Hot Springs.

I was first interested in them because, although there were other tent dwellers in the camp, this was the only tent that had the appearance of "home." In front of the tent entrance, a table had been made of a plank on two big spruce blocks, and on this table was a vase of flowers. The baby buggy, the deck chairs did not intrigue one in the least. The vase of flowers seemed to me an individualistic touch which promised a story.

The tale behind this brave little show of home-making was indeed pathetic and splendid. The young couple had been married about a year, but the young husband was a cripple, hobbling about on two crutches. On the day their little baby was born, the young man was taken to hospital with infantile paralysis. One can in some measure picture the agony of the wife, and the terrible torment of the young man, stricken by this dread disease, and with the added knowledge of his responsibilities—his wife and new-born child. What those two young folk suffered, we can only imagine in part—the horror will live with them probably all their lives.

They were living in Radium in an attempt to help restore the husband's health. And there, that plucky young girl was endeavoring to create a "home," with the aid of a tent and a vase of wild flowers. It was a Monday morning and she like any other more happily situated Canadian wife, was doing her washing, and I listened to her singing to the baby while hanging up the clothes and tidying up around her little home—and I marvelled. The young husband spent most of his time in the wash, but when he came back to camp, there was a smiling wife and contented baby waiting for him with a nicely prepared meal, just as if they were living a normal life. And, as I saw him hobbling around bravely, on his two crutches, surreptitiously watched by his young wife, I couldn't help thinking what a number of useless heroines there are, quietly living their lives and doing their duty as they see it. For better courage and grit, I can think of nothing better or finer than these two young folks trying to re-make their lives.

Britain's colonies are founded on courage of this sort. For, wherever a woman finds herself, she tries to establish a home, and her man tries to preserve it for her. Thus are empires built. A mansion or a tent—what does it matter?—it is commoner, this instinct is truly woman's, and by all the same to the home builder. If one looks around with seeing eyes, many a like tale of bravery and devotion can be found, a triumph over great odds. Just think of the many city-bred girls making a success on a farm—this is quite a little achievement, to attune oneself to farm life, after having lived and worked in a busy city. Beauty specialists, stenographers, clerks, teachers—all are to be found on farms or in mining districts, all intent on the same thing—home-building. This home-making instinct is carried into many weird and wild places, and is really the basis of all cultural progress. 'Way out in the wilds, one can see a dwelling with a geranium or two in the window, or some sickly looking flowers striving for existence against almost impossible odds—at once you know there is a woman there, trying to create a home atmosphere, something abiding that in years to come her children may remember as home. Be she Queen or commoner, this instinct is truly woman's, and by this instinct the world may yet be saved from the holocaust which seems imminent. It is a splendid trait, and is invaluable to the state. Even in this age of labour-saving devices, and service flats, this trait is ever predominant in woman.

Men, after all, are rovers at heart, and a lone wolf seldom stays in one place any length of time, never long enough to make any mark. Without the home-making instinct of women, no empires would be built, nor could they survive without it. There is no incentive to man to build himself a house, if there be no woman to put a soul into it and make of it a home—be it palace or shack.

The supreme courage of this young girl trying to make a home out of a tent is reminiscent of the pioneer women of the west. Women, who helped lay the foundation of this Canada of ours; women who travelled hundreds of miles, enduring unprecedented hardships in covered wagons, going with their men to build homes for future generations.

It is the handing on of a great tradition, and one of which we may be justly proud.

New designs in radios make it possible to get music out of chairs, tables, lamps, and almost every type of furniture. But they haven't converted the bathtub yet. That's one place where we still want to do our own singing.

"We are beginning to understand in this country more and more that there is one law for the rich, another law for the poor."—J. S. Woodworth, M.P.

longer, he reached over and touched the woman on the arm. "Madam," he said, "if you will set your basket down, the car will carry both it and you."

There are, of course, burdens that cannot be so easily disposed of. Another's burden may often be carried more easily than one's own and the effort to help put forth by a friend is wonderfully helpful to both. The burden is lightened and sometimes drops off. Who was it who once explained his cheerfulness by the casual remark, "I had a friend?"

THEY ALSO FARM ...

...WHO IN THE MACHINE SHOP WORK

Not for some time now could farming have been practised on the small scale style familiar in the world of yesterday.

If today we had to rely on the old-time cradle methods of cutting and garnering the crop, it would take every able-bodied man in every province of our Dominion to harvest the average wheat crop of Western Canada. Thanks, however, to modern farm machinery, with practically no seasonal increase in hired labor, the farmer is able to take care of even the heaviest of harvests. The making of the machines for harvesting is but a transference of labor from the field to the factory.

Instead of the short seasonal engagement during the rush days of harvest, the implement worker is given longer periods of employment, and the days he spends in making farm equipment lessens the number of men required in the farm field. Thus, these men, during the winter months, help make short work of garnering greater crops during the few and fleeting days of harvest season, and so many of the men thus engaged have themselves come from farm homes.

It was only natural when turning their faces city-wards, that men from the farm should first seek employment with a company whose name to them had been a household word.

In Massey-Harris, whose origin ninety years ago was on a farm, these one-time farmers find a rather logical expression for their abilities in the mechanical side of farming—for while in forge or machine shop—they also farm.

During the afternoon the guests were entertained with solos by Miss June Roy and Miss Ina Conway and a duet by Miss Bernice De Vore and Miss Goldie Kehoe. The gifts were presented by Lorraine Cavanaugh and Dorothy Hewman in a large basket suitably decorated with mauve and green, matching the decorations of the room.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Saitor are coming back to the farm the last of this week and that Mrs. Vaughn is taking their place at the Experimental Farm boarding house. We are sorry to lose Mrs. Vaughn and also glad to have our old neighbors back again. We could have told Bill that he would find no place better than Spring Valley—but what's the use?

Rev. G. A. Kettys travelled to Edmonton the first of the week for a tonal operation. He expects to be away from his work for the two following Sundays. In the meantime, David Dixon is taking over the services and all his

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTLETALE

TEES.—Raymond Heath has purchased a new Maple Leaf truck and built a nice new box in readiness for the big crop. The truck itself is much larger than the old one and the box will be 2 1/2 feet longer. Loaded with wheat, it will tax the new elevator scales to the limit.

Fred Meadows, principal of the Athabasca school, has returned to that point to take up duties. Mrs. Meadows and Freddie, Jr., will leave shortly.

Master Leitch of Edmonton, who has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Seal, expects to return home to Edmonton shortly.

Roger Nelles, after spending a holiday with his grandparents in the mountains, will return to Vancouver, where he will resume his school work.

Miss Jean Putnam of the local school staff had the misfortune of losing her father a week ago Monday due to a heart attack. Mr. Putnam was an old-timer of the Medicine Hat district, where he was well respected by all.

Most of the schools in this district are opening on Sept. 1 and the teachers are arriving daily, ready for the big day. A number are anxious to be back to their studies, others are wishing the holidays were just starting.

Return From the Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Goberg and their daughter Lillian returned Wednesday after spending two weeks vacationing at Banff and Vancouver, where they really enjoyed themselves.

Mrs. C. H. Colebrook spent the week-end visiting her sisters in Edmonton, at a family reunion. Quite a number of horses in the district are suffering from the blind staggers; a number have rallied to treatment and a few have departed for the pleasant green pastures where all good horses go.

Culling of wheat stands about 80 per cent, coarse grains 50 per cent to date. With good weather another two weeks should see all the binders in the sheds and the threshing machines humming.

The High School standings are in the students' hands. All in all, they are a credit to teacher and pupil.

Jake Marshall put in a good full summer vacation, what with stock judging at exhibitions and trips up among the mountains, intermingled with haymaking, harvesting and milk. A lad could ask for very little more.

Mr. McLean shipped a car of nice fat stock Tuesday, which he raised on the meadows around Gadsby Lake.

Mrs. Nelles, Jim and Roger left for a short vacation fishing in Jasper Park, picking up Buster Nelles of Lacombe enroute. Buster took his golf clubs to try out the million-dollar Jasper course. In the absence of the pastor on Sunday, Sept. 4, the services at Tees and Nebraska will be taken by David Dixon of Joffre. Service at Tees at 11:30 a.m. and at Nebraska at 2 p.m.

Returns From Arizona Trip

Dr. E. M. Sharpe returned last week from a trip which took him to Phoenix, Arizona. He travelled down by way of Salt Lake City, Bryce, Zion and Grand National Parks, and returned home along the scenic and picturesque Redwood-Coast highway. In Santa Paula, Calif., he visited with a cousin whom he had not seen for fifty years, and in Los Angeles he visited with H. F. Bailey, an old-timer of this district. J. C. Godfrey, another former Lacombe resident, entertained Dr. Sharpe and his party in Vista, on the Californian coast.

"We saw some beautiful scenery," Dr. Sharpe said, "but you still can't beat the Lacombe district and the Canadian Rockies."

TURNER VALLEY EXAMPLE OF ORDERLY DEVELOPMENT

The orderly development of the Turner Valley oil field has been one of the bright spots in recent history of the oil industry. Discovery of a major oil field has frequently been followed by economic disorder, resulting in heavy loss and grievous waste. This happens because the new field has to find its market, a process which means displacement of previous sources of supply, and conditions of surplus which upset sound business practice.

As soon as it was determined that there were large supplies of oil in Alberta, the major refineries stopped importing from Montana. They negotiated with the railways for a new freight schedule, to allow Turner Valley crude to serve the entire prairie area. This permitted price reductions. This year these price cuts will mean a saving of 5 1/2 million dollars to prairie consumers on purchases of petroleum products.

Haynes District Resident Dies

Funeral services were held recently for Mrs. Beltha Gillespie of the Haynes district, who passed away at her home on August 16. Funeral services were held from the Lacombe Funeral Home, with a large number of friends turning out to pay their last respects. Pallbearers were: Frank Dobinson, Henry Branhill, Harold Matthews, Jack Dobinson, Clayton Ditzler and Melvin Evans.

Mrs. Gillespie was born in McNab Township, Ontario, April 3, 1856. She moved to the Haynes district in 1933 from New Brighton, Alberta, and had lived in Western Canada since 1911. She leaves to mourn her loss five sons, James of Haynes, Robert of Ledaale, George of Timmins, Ont., and Allan of Calgary, as well as one sister, who are 13 grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband some years ago. Internment was made at the Lacombe cemetery.

Spruceville

(From Our Own Correspondent)

SPRUCVILLE.—Mr. and Mrs. George Orme of Red Deer and Mrs. Laura Young spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Orm Young. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burton have just returned from a short holiday at Sylvan Lake. Mrs. Jean Crocker and her mother, Mrs. Semple of Alia, and sister Margaret, are now at Sylvan for a few days.

Edmonton visitors last Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Heath and Molly and the Rice family on Friday. Sunday School at Spruceville saw two new teachers, the Misses Phyllis and Dorothy Rice. We understand, though the former will be placed by Miss Grace Fishman when she goes to take up duty at her new school near Bentley.

Everyone will be glad to learn that Billy Dancocks is recovering since he was taken back to Calgary by his mother, from the home of his grandmother, Mrs. English, where he had not been at all well.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Gottschalk is suffering from an attack of sciatica.

Visitors to Nordreg

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Heath and family were Nordreg visitors on Sunday. Mrs. Laura Young entertained Mrs. Bradley and her daughters and Mrs. Rice and her daughters and their cousin Lois to tea last Monday afternoon.

LACOMBE RESIDENT WINS FIRST PRIZE IN CONTEST

Six contestants competed, two from Sylvan Lake, two from Red Deer, one from Lacombe and one from Bentley. George won the autographed photograph of the Olympians' Orchestra as first prize.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Man." One of the Scriptural quotations in the Lesson-Sermon is Galatians 4:7, "Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son." "Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son," then an heir of God through Christ." One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "The time cometh when the spiritual origin of man, the divine Science and demonstrated Jesus into human presence, will be understood and demonstrated" (p.325).

Fact and Fiction...

By ART

Lacombe's Public Library is all ready for the fall and winter reading season with a splendid array of new books, including the best in fiction and non-fiction. Those who have not visited the library for some time will be agreeably surprised in the wide selection of the latest books now available.

A great deal of credit is due the members of Lord Lusselles Chapter, I.O.D.E., for their efforts in making the Lacombe Public Library what it is today. They have given generously of their time for many years in conducting the library in a very efficient manner.

In view of the present demand for detective and mystery stories, the librarians have placed on the shelves "Body Unidentified" by John Rhode; "The Judas Window" by Carter Dickson; "The Devil to Pay" by Elery Queen, and many others of this type which, while I have not had time to read and review them, promise some pleasant hours.

"The Pioneers," by Courtenay Ryley Cooper, and that much-discussed book, "The Citadel," by A. J. Cronin, are also available; either of these should give many evenings of the best in reading. In the non-fiction section, two of the recent additions, "The Nile" the life story of a river by Emil Ludwig, is splendidly illustrated and should be very instructive for High School students or the older generation. "Beyond Horizons" by another well illustrated edition, being the story of the Arctic and Antarctic expeditions of the well-known explorer, Lincoln Ellsworth.

Recently I finished reading "The Evergreen Tree," by Gladys Faber, obtained from the library. Here is a book which chronicles in a very interesting manner the life story of a family in a small Wisconsin town—the family of Harry and Clara Prescott.

As the story unfolds, it is a story of growth and maturity, encountering every form of Success and Failure which lays in wait for the average person. The era of prosperity brings to the family as many pitfalls as the far-reaching depression which follows, but through it all the guiding hand of the faithful mother (the Evergreen Tree) steers the family in a most capable manner. We can all learn a good deal from this splendid story of an everyday family and I can heartily recommend Miss Faber's book as "educative fiction."

CARS SMASHED IN ACCIDENT THIS MORNING
Bashed-in fenders and smashed lights was the result of an automobile accident up by the old hospital building Thursday morning. Buster Brown, backing out of the lane behind his home, smashed into a car driven by Jimmy Hampson. No one was hurt but both cars were damaged.

WOOL EXPORTS
BRISBANE—According to the Australian Commonwealth Bureau of Census and Statistics, 3,300,000 pounds of wool were exported from Australia to Canada during the 1937-38 season (July, 1937, to May, 1938).

SIX NEW CANDIDATES INITIATED LAST WEEK
Six new candidates were given the initiatory work at a meeting in Lacombe of the M.W. of A. Hub Camp No. 1324, on August 24, with representatives present from Bentley and Gull Lake.

Through the efforts of District Manager W. E. Decker, Ed Dowling, local agent for Bentley, and a few of the local members, 51 new candidates have been accepted into the society since the beginning of the year. Fifty-five members were present at the last regular meeting.

Encephalomyelitis Scare Stamped Out In This District

The encephalomyelitis disease which was prevalent among the horses of this district recently has been well checked and all but stamped out as farmers inoculated their horses with the new chick vaccine. Few deaths have been reported in this immediate vicinity, with less than 25 farm animals dying from this malady. Prompt action on the part of government officials seems to have effectively stopped the spread of the disease.

A check-up by the Lacombe Globe showed that very few purchases of the vaccine have been made the past week, indicating that farmers are either satisfied that the disease has been checked or that the majority of the horses have been treated. It is estimated that well over 2,000 horses in this vicinity were inoculated the vaccine or given some other treatment.
